STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

And be ye kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven
you.—(Ephesians 4, 32.)

When we stop to think that God forgives us of our sins not once but many times, that He loves us despite our unworthiness, how is it possible that we can keep unkindness, hatred and resentment in our hearts?

Never before in regular grade gasoline
New Shell Gasoline contains TCP—gives performance never before possible with regular grade fuel
If the engine of your car was designed to operate on regular grade fuels, you can now take advantage of the remarkable gasoline additive, TCP*, first introduced in Shell Premium Gasoline exclusively.
New Shell Gasoline (regular grade) with TCP, benefits engine performance in two ways. First, by "fireproofing" combustion chamber deposits, it effectively controls pre-ignition. Second, by changing the deposits on the spark plugs to nonconductors of electricity, TCP additive stops misfiring. Each plug fires as it should, preventing fuel waste.
By correcting these engine troubles, Shell Gasoline (regular grade) with TCP gives an increase in acceleration, in smoothness of engine operation and in mileage.
Because engine deposits form constantly, continued use of Shell Gasoline (regular grade) with TCP is essential to retain its benefits. Now

Joe Dan Draffen and Mississippi Girl Wed

In a 6 o'clock ceremony held Saturday, Feb. 12, at the First Baptist Church in Jackson, Miss., Miss LaVerne Myers became the bride of Mr. Joe Daniel Draffen of Benton.

Miss Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ventress Myers of Jackson and Mr. Draffen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Draffen of Benton.

Dr. W. Douglas Hudgins performed the ceremony in the presence of a large and fashionable gathering of relatives and friends.

The program of wedding music was given by Miss Hazel Chisholm, organist, and Earl Grauer, tenor.

The church was decorated with palms and cathedral candelabra with arrangements of white magnolia leaves worked throughout. Cathedral candles burned in turned wood candelabra along the aisles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in her wedding gown of Chantilly lace over pure white satin, designed with a pointed basque bodice of lace and portrait neckline of lace on tulle sprinkled with iridescent sequins. The long sleeves ended in lily points over the hands. The billowing skirt flowed into a graceful cathedral train.

The bride's fingertip veil of double illusion was arranged from a coronet of sequins and pearls, and her flowers were a cluster of white orchids on an ivory Bible showered with bridal illusion and white satin ribbons.

Mrs. William David McCann was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Polly Coker of Brookhaven, Miss., was maid of honor. She is a cousin of the bride. There were six bridesmaids.

All the attendants wore identical ballerina length gowns of two-toned pink tulle over taffeta with matching stoles, and very bouffant skirts.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother-in-law, Robert Scott of Benton. There were six ushers, all from Mississippi.

A reception was held after the wedding at the Edwards Hotel in Jackson.

The young couple, after a honeymoon trip, now are at home in Jackson, where Mr. Draffen is connected with the Mississippi Rating Bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Draffen and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of Benton attended the wedding.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul, and why art thou quieted in me? Hope thou in God.—(Psalms 42:5.)

All of us have our moments of despondency when it seems easier to sink deeper than to make the effort to pull ourselves up. But God's good and His love are ever present to help and strengthen us, if we will but seek Him in prayer.

Fire Destroys Residence of Solon Gipson

The residence of Solon Gipson, located on the Symsonia road, was destroyed by fire about 6:30 o'clock last Thursday night.

The house was located two farms away from the Van Cone place.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gipson also lived in the house.

The fire alarm was sounded in Benton, and the fire truck went as far as the city limits but under municipal rules did not leave the city. There was no water supply available for the fire truck, anyway.

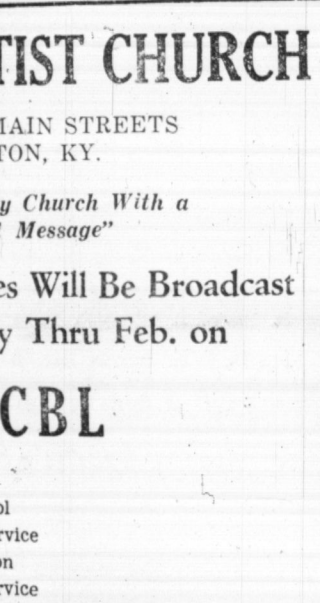

Some of the furnishings of the house were saved, but the dwelling was burned to the ground. Volunteers fought the fire for a time, but soon saw that their job was hopeless.

The fire was thought to have started at the fire. A woman passerby noticed smoke pouring from the house and notified the Gipsens.

Six men carried a deep freeze unit loaded with food from the house.

Insurance was carried by the Gipsens and they plan to re-build soon.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 3
Not All Your Income Goes In Your Tax Form

(This is one of a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Kentucky Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

Taxpayers make more mistakes in listing their income than any other type of error, according to a survey made by the Internal Revenue Service. It is important to know what to include and what NOT to include. Look at this list and see if you can tell which should be listed as income on your federal income tax return:

Dividends from an insurance policy.
Pay of armed forces enlisted men while in combat or while hospitalized from combat service.
Social Security benefits.
Gifts.
Payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.
The answer is that none of the above should be listed as taxable income! There are other forms of exempt income, too, which you will find listed in the official tax instructions. Some of them are:

Other Exempt Income
Inheritances and bequests (the estate may be taxed but not the recipient).
First $200 of monthly pay of armed forces officers while serving or hospitalized from active service in a combat zone.
Railroad Retirement Act benefits.
Certain health and accident benefits.
Damages awarded by a court or paid out of court for personal injuries.
Government payments and benefits to veterans and their families, except nondisability retirement pay and interest on terminal leave bonds.

Interest on state and municipal bonds.
Parsons and Prizes
The rental value of a parsonage furnished to a minister of the gospel is not taxable income; the law now adds that a rental allowance paid to him for this purpose is also exempt.
If you won a prize, watch this fine distinction: the prize is taxable if you were required to exert even the slightest effort to earn it; on the other hand, if it was made in recognition of scientific, literary or other achievement and you were selected without any action on your part the prize is considered a gift and you are not taxed on it.
Most scholarships and fellowships are exempt, unless they are paid as compensation for services, such as teaching and research.

Additional Information
Be sure to read the official instructions. You can also get help from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult only qualified advisers.

$2585.00 puts it in your driveway!

Local delivered price of the 2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster... $81.70; Radio & Antenna... $92.50.

CHANCES are, you'll be way over if you guess at the local delivered price of a 1955 Buick. Most people are.

And that's easy to understand when you look at a Buick. It's big, broad, roomy—powered for thrilling action. In prestige alone, it would seem to carry a high price tag.

But when you check into things, you discover this surprising fact: Buick is in the nation's top three when it comes to sales volume—and when it comes to low prices that make such huge popularity possible.

The price we show here is one proof of that. And an even bigger one is the soaring success of the 1955 Buick—hottest car in all Buick sales history.

So why miss out on Buick style and power and room and ride when you can have it all if you can afford any new car?

Why do yourself out of the fun and pride and deep satisfaction of bossing a big and brawny beauty like the one pictured here, when the dollars you pay for this Buick buy you so much more sheer automobile?

And why pay extra for things like direction signals, oil-bath air cleaner, full-flow oil filter, automatic lighting in the glove compartment—when such things, and more, are yours in every new Buick as standard equipment at no extra cost?

Drop in for a visit this week and start checking things.

We believe that when you look into this great car—when you see what you get for the low price you pay—and when you discover what happens when you nudge that gas pedal—you'll say it's gospel that Buick's the thrill and the buy of the year, hands down.

Thrill of the year is Buick

Story With Power

Lesson for February 27, 1955

EVERYBODY knows the words "Minister of the Gospel," but not everybody stops to think what they mean. Literally, the title means "Servant of the Good News." The minister is a man with a story to tell. There are many words to describe a minister, but in Protestant churches the commonest, probably, is "Preacher." This is a Bible word too and it originally meant someone who announced something. The preacher is not a giver of advice, first of all, but a teller of news. The message of the church, if it is faithful to the ideal Christ intended, is first of all, whatever else it may be, first of all a story of what God has done for men.

Story of a Life
A crank-sided philosopher who did not much care for preachers once made the sarcastic remark that a preacher has a very simple job: all he does is to go to a man and say, "God has told me to tell you that you are a very wicked man. Ten dollars, please!" If that were all that preachers could say, it certainly would not be worth ten cents. Men need to be told that they are on the wrong road, certainly. But they know that sometimes better than the preacher does. What the church is called on to preach—that is, to proclaim, to tell, to persuade men that it is true—is a story. First of all it is the story of a life—the life of Jesus Christ. The earliest Christian preaching of which we have any record told the story of Jesus. The four Gospels which we now have in writing got started as sermons. What we have before us in Matthew, Mark, Luke and John is what the earliest Christian preachers said the way, were all what we call "sermon"—told people in market-places, in private homes or in synagogues, wherever they could get a hearing—what they told about Jesus, who he was, what he did, what he said. Christian preaching that leaves out the story of Jesus is not really Christian. Preaching that concentrates on the death of Christ and says little about his life and teachings is not New Testament preaching. When the early church put the four Gospels—stories about Jesus—in the front of the New Testament, they knew what they were doing. What is in the front of the New Testament ought not to be out of sight in the church.

Story of a Death
More space is used up, in our written Gospels, telling the story of Jesus' last week, his trial and execution, than is used for any other week in his lifetime. Now that last week was to all appearances a tragedy, coming swiftly to a shameful end. It is not a "nice" story. But the church told it, and still tells it. It was not at all necessary to dwell on it, one might think. All men die; why not Jesus too? But the church was not content to say simply that Jesus died on such and such a day. There was much more to be said, and much of what we have in the Scriptures of the New Testament is just more "preaching" only this time not simply telling the story but explaining what it means. The four gospels all say that Jesus died. The epistles say, He died for our sins. The gospels tell us about a cross; the rest of the New Testament tells why that cross had to be. The cross marks the peak of the wickedness of the world. But it also marks the outpouring of the love of God. Nothing else that has ever happened, has expressed the love of God as eloquently as the Cross has done.

To Every Creature
A right church is never like a club. A club has nothing to say to people on the outside. Its members talk to one another, inside the club. But a church has something to say, a story to tell, a story to explain. It is the most important story in the world. You can believe other stories or not, and it may make very little difference. But whether or not you believe the story the church has to tell, it makes all the difference between life and death. So the church has set out to tell this story of God to every creature in the world. So long as there is still one soul who has not heard it, or does not believe it, the work of the church is not yet done.

Soil Conservation Notes

By HERBERT ANDERSON

Brooks Starr, professional golf instructor, Kentucky Dam Village State Park, has had excellent success in establishing over a 100 acres of Bermuda grass by spring seeding on the golf course.

The seed were sown April 20 and a good stand and growth was obtained the first summer in spite of the drought. Fifteen to twenty-five pounds of seed were sown on a well prepared seedbed. Three hundred pounds of a complete fertilizer were applied per acre. The grass was not killed the first winter by freezing.

California hulled Bermuda seed were used. This grass is well adapted to our steep gravelly soils. It will make good pasture during the dry summer periods when other pasture plants are burned brown. When seeding on farm land, ten pounds per acre should be sufficient.

Dean Collie, Fairdeal, has a good stand of grass on land which was cleared last year of bushes, briars, and trees. W. G. Harris, Bob Simmons, Ned Pace, Henry Byers, and Earl Smith also cleared land for pasture last year.

Open drainage ditches were dug last fall by Walter House, W. G. Harris, Ned Pace and Everett Hill. The Soil Conservation Service assisted with survey and construction.

Renroe Rudolph, chairman of board of supervisors, Marshall County Soil Conservation District, terraced an eight acre field last fall. A small grain cover crop was then seeded on the contour.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources furnished free planting material of bicolor Lespedeza and multiflora rose plants to farmers who requested it last fall. Only three, Hoy Thompson, Ned Pace, and Gilbert Henson, received this material.

Noah Lovett, east of Fairdeal, has protected his pond spillway and levee by establishing a fescue sod.

Lannie Lyles and Horace Sheld have become cooperators of the District this month. George Holland, Fairdeal, has a good stand of button clover, which was seeded last fall. This clover is good for a green turn under crop for building up the organic supply in the soil.

Miss Allie Travis of Gilbertsville spent a recent weekend in Benton with her sister, Mrs. Lillie Cooper.

Joe Pugh of Route 7 was in town Friday on business.

Students to Operate Paducah Dry One Day

In cooperation with the high schools of Paducah and McCracken county, Paducah Dry Goods Co. will sponsor a Youth Day event during which students from various schools will assume the executive positions in the store for a day and see the inner workings of a retail operation during a sale event.

Based on scholastic ability, 12 students have been chosen to be junior executives at Paducah Dry. These young executives will learn exactly how a department store operates through visits and tours of the store prior to the event. On Youth Day they will assume management titles and operate the store, working directly with their opposite from the store staff.

During Youth Day customers will vote in a contest to determine the "most likely to succeed in retailing" from the junior executives. This student will be presented with a handsome wrist watch as a remembrance of the event.

The winners and two runners-up in the balloting will enter the Interstate Department Stores contest with competitors in 42 other cities. Interstate Department stores is sponsoring this contest to stimulate interest in retailing as a career, and to emphasize the importance of department stores to the community. The contestants will write an essay on "The Importance of Retailing to My Community" in 1,000 words or less. The grand winner will receive the Sol Cantor Scholarship of $1,000 to the New York University School of Retailing or to any school or college of his choice.

The judges will be Prof. John W. Wingate, who is in charge of the retailing programs of the City College of New York, the Bernard M. Baruch School of Business and Public Administration; Charles M. Edwards Jr., professor of retailing, Dean, New York University School of Retailing, and Mr. Sol Cantor, president of Interstate Department Stores.

The young executives will learn the preparation and planning that goes into an event and see the final results in buying and selling during the Youth Day sale which will be run by the Paducah Dry Goods Co.

Miss Mary Lou Crouch recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crouch in Benton. She is employed in Nashville.

T. L. Collie of Route 5 was in town Friday on business.

For Thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive, and abundant in lovingkindness.—(Psalms 86, 5.)

When we find it hard to forgive and forget, then should we pray to God that He forgive us and that the never-failing warmth of His love fill us and melt away our bitterness. Then indeed we will be able to forgive ourselves for our uncharity.

Pennsalt Earnings Show Increases for Year 1959 Over 1953

The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company has reported, subject to final audit, that consolidated net profits for 1954, the company's 104th year of operation, were $3,390,902, as compared with $3,106,508 for 1953.

This was equivalent to $2.73 per share on 1,242,795 shares of common stock outstanding at the end of the year as compared with $2.50 per share in 1953. Included in the 1954 earnings figures however, were non-recurring profits from capital gains which amounted to approximately 30 cents per share.

Consolidated net sales for the year ending December 31, 1954, were $58,124,228, slightly under $59,211,077 reported a year ago.

Net earnings for the fourth quarter 1954 were $726,461 or 58 cents per share as compared with $617,813 or 50 cents per share for the corresponding quarter in 1953.
